Software Consultant (f/m/d)

Fulltime | Dobl-Zwaring, Österreich

redPILOT GmbH is a young, successful and internationally active subsidiary of KNAPP AG. redPILOT is developing innovative software – an "autopilot" – to optimize the use of resources in intralogistics.

#yourmission

Your area of responsibility

- Act as the central point of contact for existing and future customers across all project phases, from sales to implementation and ongoing service
- Conduct detailed needs analyses and provide tailored consulting solutions
- Take responsibility for system configuration during project implementation
- Support the development team by translating customer and business requirements into clear product-related input

#youareknapp

Your profile

- Completed education or training in logistics, software, or organization, combined with initial relevant professional experience
- Analytical and structured working style with strong communication skills
- Ability to advise customers effectively and contribute to successful project implementation
- Motivation to continuously develop both technical expertise and personal skills
- Very good English skills; additional foreign language skills are an advantage
- Willingness to travel approximately 50%

built on values.
powered by people.

Applications via knapp.com/en/career

#weareknapp

Your benefits

- Collaboration in a young, dynamic company with short decision-making paths
- Use of state-of-the-art technologies (e.g. Apache Kafka, Kubernetes, OIDC)
- Open, appreciative, and motivating communication culture
- Continuous training and development opportunities
- Attractive remuneration, various employee purchasing benefits, and flexible working hours
- Modern working environment with renowned, world-leading customers
- Excellent company canteen, darts or table tennis during lunch breaks, and regular team events

IT collective agreement minimum salary: € 4,061 gross per month, with a clear willingness to overpay depending on qualifications and professional experience

Your benefits

- Collaboration in a young, dynamic company with short information channels
- Use of leading-edge technologies (e.g. Apache Kafka, Kubernetes, OIDC)
- Open, appreciative and motivating communication
- Continuous training
- Good pay, various purchasing conditions and flexible working hours
- Modern working environment with well-known, world-leading customers
- Very good canteen, darts or table tennis during the lunch break, team events
- IT-KV minimum salary: 4,061 € gross per month, of course with willingness to overpay depending on experience